

From: Kern, Nancy <nancy.kern@magnapubs.com>
To: Tobin, Thomas <t-tobin@neu.edu>
Date: Fri, Feb 7, 2014 at 8:33 AM
Subject: Magna Online Seminar "Using Universal Design to Support All Online Students"

Hi Tom,

Here are the survey results. These are outstanding. Getting a 4 on audience interaction is a rarity. So that was terrific. Your level of expertise at a 4.64 was also off the charts.

For the people who find it useful, how likely they are to implement the ideas and would they participate in another Magna seminar – I add up the "somewhat" and "very" answers and I want the total to be 70% or higher. Your totals are at 100% or close to it. That's outstanding.

Your overall rating is 4.40, which puts you in the top 2% of Magna presenters.

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/results/SM-MF6SDN/>

Here are some of the responses to question 8:

- The seminars are valuable to my team when we participate together and discuss after.
- The webinar gives very practical ways to implement UDL and makes UDL easier to understand.
- Dr. Tom Tobin presented an interesting and thought-provoking presentation that not only educated the audience, but began discussions on our campus about utilizing Universal Design.
- Good basic overview of UDL, good examples and resources.

And not only that, but when we ask how we could improve, you got really positive responses there, too.

- This was an excellent webinar. My faculty developed a lot of ideas based on the webinar and feel more comfortable with the UDL process. I suggest that you look at those that have the TAACCCT grant as all the work must be in UDL format.
- Would be helpful to explore the case study example in more detail with more practical solutions. Appreciate this is a challenge in one hour.
- Would like more actual "how-to" strategies. More detailed techniques. Take questions beforehand.

OK – and besides all of those fabulous comments from participants, you were also wonderful to work with behind the scenes and stretched our ideas of the capabilities of Adobe Connect and were just fun. So thank you so much! Great job all around. We can talk about your next topic whenever you're ready.

Have a great weekend and a great trip to D.C.

Best wishes,

Nancy

Nancy Kern
Online Seminar Developer

Magna Publications
2718 Dryden Drive
Madison, WI 53704
608.227.8102
Nancy.kern@magnapubs.com
www.magnapubs.com