

We invited Thomas to speak at our annual Showcase 2016 in-house conference this past June.

This proved to be a great move on our part! Tom blew us away with the amount of pre-work he completed, interviewing several key SAIT players, in order to tailor his presentation to our specific needs and pedagogical environment. His talk, “The 104 Best Teaching Practices in Brightspace”, was well-attended by our faculty and staff. He even compiled his own audience engagement statistics and emailed them to us a few days later.

At all times Tom was professional, communicative, punctual, pleasant, and on all fronts exceeded our expectations of keynote speakers. We look forward to having him at SAIT again in the future.
