Open-ended feedback:

- Appreciate the humor with the session content.

- BTW—still doesn’t alleviate problem of student who needs extra time on test.
- Caused me to want to research new software & other accessibility.
- Communicated very well. Interesting! Thank you.
- Creative and engaging! Informative, too!
- Differentiation—get it, got it, research on effectiveness?

- Engaging, helpful for expanding availability to students.

- Excellent! Very useful information.
Exhausting—suggestions do seem time consuming.
Fantastic session. Would love info on how to convert existing files.
Fun speaker. Star Wars nerds unite! Thanks for the good info!
Good humor & realism.
Great ideas. Great presentation style & very engaging. Thank you.
Good points in general. Not all info applicable for every program.
Good practical suggestions for non-trad & busy students.
Good presentation, but I already do much of this…
Good suggestions for how to make my class more accessible to all students.
Good.
Got some good ideas (simple & easy).
Great content.
Great information presented in a fun way.
Great job! Intro Hospitality is not taught by a guy. 😊
Great practical ideas and concepts.
Great presentation! I like the idea of using GoSite @home for video not just email.
Great presentation. Thank you!
Great presenter. Very amiable.
Great speaker! Important & useful information that I will be able to use.
Great!
Great!
Great! & fun!
Great! Would love to see more of this on campus!
He did an amazing job! Thank you for your info!
He had me at Star Wars puns.
He was great!
He was very knowledgeable & gave a great presentation.
Helpful info to get a start with UDL—thank you!
Helpful, on point, entertaining.
Helpful, practical, useful.
I did expect some discussion of multiple proficiency levels in the same classroom and how UDL helps this situation.
I do like to see data to support ideas & progress in the field. Maybe add some studies?
I don’t have a smart phone. I don’t let stds. use theirs in class.
I enjoyed listening to Tobin. He was interactive and interesting.
I enjoyed the Star Wars references. Lots of use of humor in presentation.
I had no idea what to expect from the title. The info was very helpful!!
I like the vantage point of joining the digital age.
I loved all the Star Wars to help motivate me through the presentation—plus great & useful content.
I really appreciate the ideas presented here—very practical and inspiring.
I understand you must appeal to many disciplines, I just would have hoped for more specific examples of ways to implement the five steps.
I was impressed that MSU would have a keynote like this for teaching. This was GREAT!
I’m interested in putting the suggestions into practical application.
I’m thankful for the session, but it would have been nice to know that the Showcase included lunch and a session because the email I received only mentioned the workshops. I had to text my babysitter to ask for more time.
Ideas, in some cases, seem to encourage poor intellectual skills (e.g., poor concentration [new task every 10 minutes], don’t develop writing skills b/c allowed to make a video instead).
Informative & engaging.
Informative and engaging.
Informative and entertaining.
Inspiring.
Interesting & helpful.
Interesting.
It is always curious to me to see a presentation on varying instruction and it doesn’t use any of the proposed strategies during the presentation (e.g., no “10 & 2”) used.
It was an enriching experience getting to know about UDL. Great presentation. Hope to implement it.
Keep the Star Wars jokes. Great visual aid!
Liked the simplicity. Didn’t get bored. Actually wanted to keep following with Tom.
Love the Star Wars clips.
Loved it! Great ideas, helps to take away the anxiety. Be proactive not reactive. Thank you!
Loved the Star Wars!
Meal was delightful. Dr. Tobin was engaging—would just like more application ideas. Great delivery.
More actual examples.
Need more Episode VII.
Not really into Star Wars, but will use resources.
Offended he criticized Cowboys. Apart from that, VERY practical & helpful. I’m excited!
Oversimplified some of the methodology—maybe due to time crunch (ex. paper = audio = video). Good overview of UDL.
Plus: didn’t use any bits from the crappy Star Wars movies. Minus: too heavy on Jim Gaffigan bits.
Presenter was entertaining but was hard to follow. Disjointed presentation style.
Realistic, useful info!
Thank you! Very useful and insightful information.
Thank you!! Very helpful!!
Thank you.
Thanks!
The Chinese menu is great. 😊
The information given will tremendously affect the way I teach and interact with my students.
The information was good, but not new to me.
The style reminded me of a self-help seminar, with a bit of a “this is the way, you can too!” attitude. It made me a little weary [sic] of the info.
• This session provided lots of practical teaching strategies.
• This session went very well with the other sessions I attended. This session gave me strategies to use to increase students’ confidence that increase understanding, learning, retention, and commitment.
• This was good—as always, more time needed. 😊
• This was good—there were occasions where there was a bit too much cynicism in the jokes—it could be off-putting.
• Thorough and actionable.
• Thought it was great! Good focus! Some of this information may be hard to implement in certain disciplines.
• Too many attempts to be entertaining or engaging for its own sake. Especially frustrating, as I am giving up valuable prep time to be here. Would have been more helpful as a 30-40 minute presentation.
• Totally loved all the “Star Trek” references!! (tee-hee). Outstanding presentation, good advice.
• Useful & entertaining.
• Useful info for all subjects & all levels of students (including K-12). Thanks!
• Useful, entertaining, better than expected! Yes! I can do this! It will help me be more efficient!
• Useful.
• Very energizing & informative.
• Very engaging & directly related to useful info for MSU faculty. Explained simply for all instructors to grasp. Great ways to start.
• Very engaging presenter, knowledgeable on topic, motivational but a little lack on details & how a university like ours can implement this.
• Very engaging! Very useful information. I will make changes tomorrow.
• Very engaging. Good practical advice.
• Very entertaining. Good speaker.
• Very good speaker in terms of content/knowledge and presentation/performance.
• Very helpful and informative!
• Very informative and interesting.
• Very inspiring.
• Very interesting but a bit of a jerk sometimes just to get a laugh. Not cool.
• Very well done. Very engaging. Very relevant, applicable. I’m glad to have attended/participated.
• Wasn’t a fan of the whole “Star Wars” theme.
• Would have liked more how-to examples.
• Would like more actual tools to use to accomplish the 5 strategies.
• Yeah, there were a few, but not nearly enough Star Wars references.
• You think you’re entirely more amusing than you actually are. This was entirely basic. I didn’t take away anything new. 😊
