

Tobin, “7 + 3 = 1: Universal Design for Learning and the 7 Principles of Good Teaching” Keynote

Participant Evaluation Results

Attendance: 160

Respondents: 46

1. This session’s information will be useful to me in my job (and/or my personal life).
2. The description matched what I experienced in the session.
3. The facilitator demonstrated good presentation skills.
4. Over all, this was a good session.

Open-ended feedback:

- Gave me additional perspective on learning strategies to use. Great presentation!
- Good example of a “new” way to have a guest speaker. It did make me think of ways to make my courses more friendly to younger learners.
- Good information, but it was difficult to hear the speaker.
- Good practical ideas to think about.
- Great ideas/tips that are practical.
- Great presentation.
- Great presenter—kept audience attention.
- Great teacher!
- Having started here within the last couple years, this has been a clear message all along, so no surprises or new info to take away.
- I enjoyed this presentation. Would love to see you present again. 😊
- I wish the weather would have been better so he could have been here.
- Informative and contemporary ideas to enhance learning.
- Interactive, nice!
- It would have been better in person. Some of the message was lost due to switching between screens—cameras, etc.
- Less time probing Audience, more time presenting.
- Nice job giving examples & resources. Thanks!
- Nice mention of Ed Roberts! Loved it!
- Some great ideas for variations in course work.
- The session was very informative. It provided ideas on how I can improve learning, increase engagement & student-teacher interactions not only in the classroom but also virtually. Great presentation!
- This is very eye-opening and so much different than my college years. I’ll try not to be so antiquated.
- Very helpful take-away items I can implement now.
- Well formatted; loved the interaction.
- Would have been better in person.