5. In a few words, share your over-all impression of this session.

- “+1” idea is important.
- Besides being overwhelmed, I believe after I have time to digest all of the info, I will be able to “take away” something I can use. I am brand new to teaching @ the university level so I’m processing a lot. Thank you for a wonderful presentation.
- Conversational, evidence-based, sharing of practical tips to universal design +1.
- Everyone needs the “how to’s.” Big picture thinking great, but we need to be taught and allowed [to] practice the tools. Thank you!
- Great overall explication of UDL. Appreciate the UDL book (CAST) download.
- Great—more faculty would have benefited if they had this info.
- I didn’t realize copyright session was in afternoon . . . I can’t attend, but need help/info.
- I have some experience with the topic & it was an excellent way to bring people on board.
- I liked the positive vibes displayed by the presenter/facilitator. He urged us in a positive way how important it is for us to practice UDL.
- I would love to have more opportunity sessions like this one, and also adding a hands-on section.
- Informative and useful session.
- It’s nice to see our faculty engaging in your presentation.
- Sorry I had to leave for a meeting & miss more than ½ of the session.
Succinct session – Part 1. Well thought out and the steps are very helpful. Part 2 – great facilitating Q&A session.

The “Chinese menu” was great—I will use that for ideas to incorporate for classes. I still feel a bit overwhelmed or unsure how to do “+1” with my lectures which incorporate a lot of student participation.

The first 60-90 minutes perhaps could have been done in less time (sell others on UDL). Second half more useful (better use of precious time).

There were many take-aways that I plan to slowly incorporate in my courses. Very useful session.

This session has given me many ideas to incorporate access into my classes/courses.

This was awesome! Thanks for coming.

Useful, non-technical strategies to implement UDL. Excellent ability to facilitate discussion. Very knowledgeable!

Very engaging session with applicable information. Not too much info at once.

Very useful to a new instructor like me. +1 was a very useful concept. I’ll be trying my best to use it. Something I’d like to have seen more of or practiced is what +1 would look like—e.g., here is how to break content up into chunks. Thank you!

You are great! I want to use UDL! & share with my colleagues. 🙂
