

Magna Leadership in Higher Education conference
 Minneapolis, MN – October 20, 2018

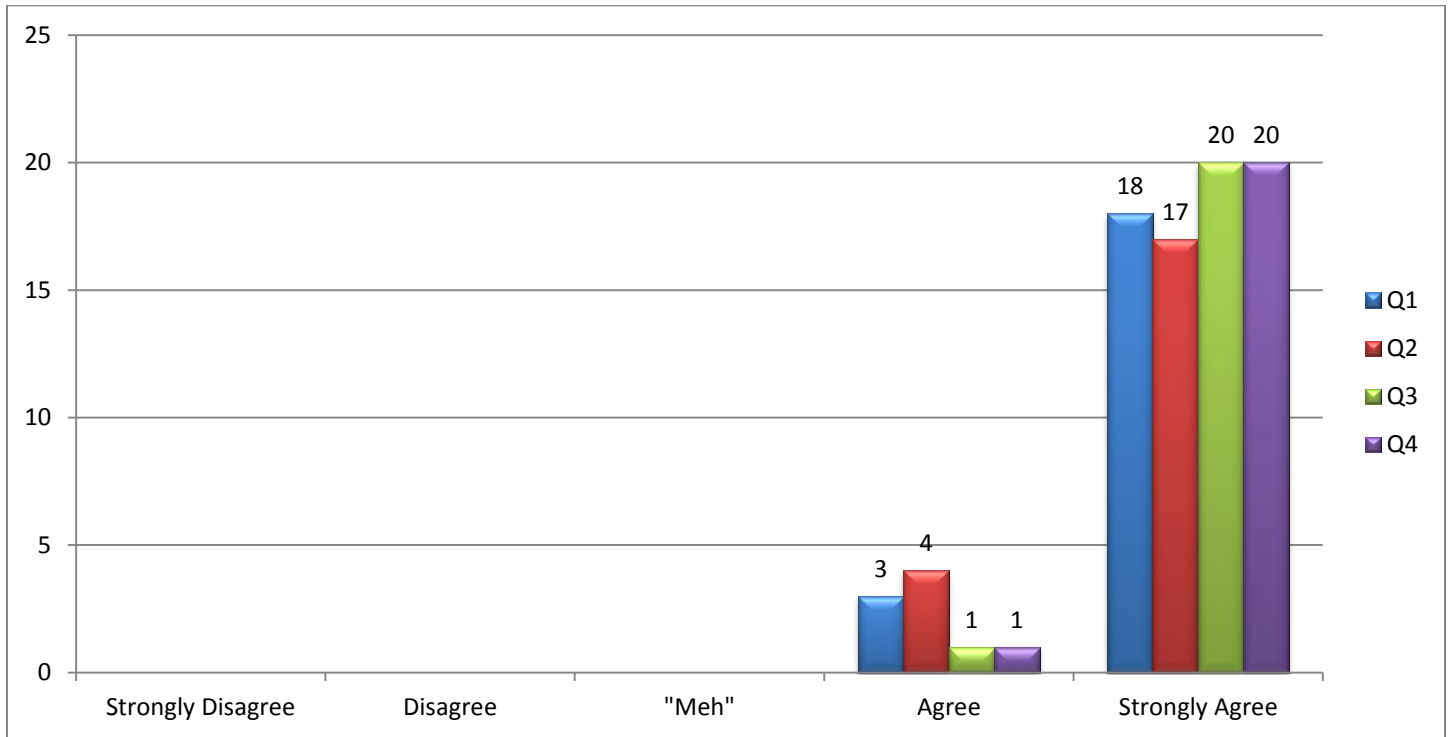

Tobin, “Secret Boss Training: How to Observe and Evaluate Teaching”

Participant Rating Results

Attendance: 42

Respondents: 21

1. This session’s information will be useful to me in my job.
2. The description matched what I experienced in the session.
3. The facilitator demonstrated good presentation skills.
4. Over all, this was a good session.

5. In a few words, share your over-all impression of this session.

- Clear + excellent information for assessment.
- Excellent session.
- Excellent.
- Excellent. Student ranking concept very helpful.
- Fantastic communication of critical information on evaluating teaching. As a new chair, this really got me thinking about how to approach teaching evaluation with my faculty.
- Fantastic session! Thanks.
- Fantastic! Conveyed complex issues in a clear manner. Very helpful.
- Great session!
- Interesting! Enjoyed formative vs. summative.
- The session was engaging and interesting. We are in the thick of re-evaluating students feedback and our faculty mentor program, so this should really help through this process.
- Very engaging speaker—kept my attention. These concepts will help me with my own teaching, not just observing.
- Very helpful! My institution is just now starting to observe our adjunct instructors, and there has been a massive divide between our F2F and online courses. I will be prepared to make strong arguments for how we should be designing our observation tools. Thank you!
- Very useful information. The way to evaluate faculty without being put on the negative side to the faculty member.
- Wow!
- You are an engaging presenter. Thank you!