Dear Dr. Tobin:

Thank you for the Universal Design for Learning expertise you provided our faculty members, Disability Resource specialists, and our instructional designers. Each participant grew in their application of UDL concepts in their classrooms and in direct service to students. The insights you shared with our teams had a visible and positive impact upon their services and instruction.

We have included comments from some of the participants in your 21-22 UDL Champions Project:

- Thank you for sharing your knowledge & expertise in the area of UDL. I really appreciated and learned a great deal from your modeling of UDL and productive and specific feedback. It's been a pleasure working with you!
- Wendy C.
- It has been a wonderful experience working with Dr. Tobin throughout this UDL champions workshop series. Tom is truly a guru of UDL and I feel like I have a new lens of understanding and appreciation for the topic. Through this experience, I feel that I have gained a mentor and a role model, and I will strive to follow in his shoes as I advocate for UDL practices.
- Rebecca S.
- Thank you so much for your patience and time to share with us and guide us along the UDL journey, it was enlightening and I look forward to sharing it with colleagues moving forward, and implementing more of these ideas into other courses and projects!
- Andrea D.
- Thank you for the wonderful way you have taught and encouraged each of us as UDL champions. The way I organize my courses and teach has forever been changed!
- April H.

Overall it was a great learning experience for this team and the College. Thank you for sharing your knowledge and time with us. We are grateful for the experience. We look forward to our continued work with you in 2022-2023.

Sincerely,

James Barrett
